BUILDER QUEST

This game focuses on the team dynamics and day-to-day relations between colleagues in an office environment. Apart from the main task of building, as its name suggests, additional scenarios depicting a real-life office environment will be thrown into play while observations will be done on the participants' actions and reactions on each presented scenario. This game will be able to foster better understanding between colleagues, working together in diversion, multi-tasking within a team and improving day-to-day communications and correspondence.

Suitable Venue:

- Indoor (function room)
- Outdoor (parks, beaches, etc.)

Learning Points:

- Managing multi-tasks within the groups
- Working within limited resources and constraints
- Effective deployment of manpower
- Effective communications among group members
- Effective planning and execution of project
- Coping with changes in the environment & the organisation
